

Mrs. Broadfoot Operated Upon

Mrs. David Broadfoot, wife of the proprietor of the Redcliff Hotel, underwent an operation for tumor a few days ago at the old family home where the Broadfoots have been visiting in Wallaceburg, Ontario. Mr. Broadfoot had intended to be back in Redcliff by the first of the month, but as the necessity on an operation became apparent, he stayed to be at the bedside. Mrs. Broadfoot is doing nicely and Mr. Broadfoot will return to Redcliff by the 20th.

Ball Boys Usher In Fall Dancing

The baseball dance on Tuesday night was attended by some thirty odd couples, and the returns are sufficient to put the ball club square with the world, all except Manager Peacock. The crowd danced until midnight and found it more pleasurable than the hot dances during the summer.

Mullen's Surprised By Alter Society

On Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Mullen were surprised by the members of the Alter society and their husbands. About thirty guests were present. Whist occupied the evening hours after which a two-course luncheon was served. At the close of the evening Mrs. Bergeron, on behalf of the ladies of the alter society presented Mrs. Mullen with a beautiful souvenir spoon of Redcliff. Mrs. Mullen was the President of the society here. Both she and Mr. Mullen will be long remembered by their circle of friends here who wish them all success in their new home in Vancouver.

Mr. Robert Bridges, D.Lit., has been the late Mr. Alfred Austin. Mr. Robert Bridges, who has been described as Britain's only classical poet, is sixty-eight. He was born in 1871, and was educated at Eton and Balliol College, at Oxford, the university which just a year ago bestowed on him the degree of Doctor of Letters. After having Oxford he settled down to study medicine in London, at St. Bartholomew's, where he eventually became assistant physician. Assistant at the Children's Hospital, Great Ormond Street, was his next post, followed by a period as physician at the Royal Naval Hospital, at Portsmouth. He retired from medical practice, and a year later married the daughter of the late Mr. Alfred Austin, the well-known poet, at Oxford.

His poetry is undoubtedly one of the sweetest of immortality among our contemporaries. His work maintains throughout an extremely high standard, it is, if any of it, has suffered from the fact that he has never achieved the popularity or gain of talent which has been the lot of many poets, and studied class has ever been his.

His output includes eight poems, a couple of masques, numerous

The most handsome name ever bestowed on a child was that given by the late Mr. Alfred Austin to his son, the late Mr. Robert Bridges. THE HOSPITAL

Every nerve and energy of every citizen of Redcliff should be strained toward acquiring a hospital for this city that will be adequate to care for all local cases and will be in charge of competent medical men, capable of handling all manner of cases. The movement is under way now and every shoulder should be put to the wheel.

Every case of disability or sickness is now taken to the general hospital at Medicine Hat, which is already over crowded. Here in Redcliff where we have a wage roll numbering several hundred men the semi-hazardous work in which they are engaged demands first-aid-to-the-injured attention nearer at home and a place of treatment close at hand, thereby giving a dangerously injured patient a fighting chance for his life. If we don't safeguard the workers to that extent as soon as possible we are doing them an injustice which accentuates class feeling. Mining and manufacturing towns have the greatest need for hospitals. Injuries, trivial and severe, are a matter of daily occurrence.

Dr. Stoney has volunteered a private contribution of $1000 to such a purpose and the other $6000 necessary should be quickly subscribed. The efforts of those back of the movement should meet with hearty and generous response from all citizens.

THE PALACE OF PEACE

The inauguration of the great Palace of Peace at the Hague witnesses a long step toward perpetuating the ideals of universal brotherhood by making a monument that is the nearest approach to the immortalization of the propaganda, second only to the ideals inculcated within.

There is some criticism now and then of the spirit and money which backed the rearing of this edifice. To be sure, a great many dollars that laid the stones of this building are blood money sweated out of honest toilers in the great steel furnace's oven which Andrew Carnegie is king, but of that this same "Laird of Skibo" is since in his desire for the amalgamation of brotherhood there can be no doubt.

There are many devotees of ideals who are blind to what should be the corollary of the launching of their ideals—the practice of kindred virtues and charities in other fields among their fellow men.

Andrew Carnegie has done a great work for mankind, not in the raising of the pile, but in the forceful way in which the subject is brought to the attention of every nation.

The retiring minister of foreign affairs, Hore Van Souten, made the statement in the inaugural ceremonies that "Eternal peace is only in the cemetery." But that the matters in dispute are nothing, and that the spirit in which they are emulated is everything is the recognized solution of Eternal Peace. It is an ephemeral thing that can become eternal only through the future reasonableness and spirit of fair play that should pervade the ranks of every nation's leaders. The Palace of Peace should forever be evolving new interpretations and acceptations of the love of man to man and the abhorrence of bathing in the blood of fellow men taken in strife.

Brick Go Through Fire Before they Go to You.

They are made from clay and the clay is burned in a heat that averages 2200 degrees Fahrenheit—a heat far greater than any fire they will ever be called upon to pass through in the walls of your house.

This is what makes Brick Fire-proof. That is what makes Brick Frost-proof. That is what makes Brick Impenetrable.

Build Your Home of Brick—IT'S ECONOMY

True economy not only takes in the first cost but the cost that is to come. Brick houses of average construction cost but a few dollars more than lumber or stucco—say $150 on a $3,500 house. But when they are erected cost stops. There are no repairs to be figured on. There is no painting to be counted in every 3 or 4 years. There is no depreciation in price—consequently your money will sell for what it cost you, plus the increase of the value of your lot in the meanwhile. There is a reduction in the insurance rate of 37 per cent over concrete or stucco and more than 50 per cent over lumber. There is a reduction in fuel bills because brick keeps out the frost in winter. There is comfort in summer because brick keeps out the heat. And above all you can borrow more money from your bank on a brick house ten years after it is constructed than you can on a lumber or concrete of the same value in the same period of time. When you build, build for true economy.

HOWARD BLOCK IS COMPLETED

One of the Handsome Buildings Here Turned Over to Owners.

The Howard Block on Second St. which was started over three months ago, on June 2nd, was completed yesterday when Andy Olson, the contractor, turned it over to the owners, Mr. Chas. Oakland and Mr. Howard Freeman.

The owners of the building determined at the start to put enough money in it to build it for the future and the finished product certainly does credit to the city with its 49,000 worth of facade, windows and stores and offices. The structure is of solid brick, two stories high, and the thirteen offices and rooms upstairs, including several suites of rooms, also toilets and baths.

There are two stores on the ground floor, the one adjoining the Empress Theater being 18 feet in width, while the one on the right side is 25 feet wide. The interior finishing is in Washington fir. In the basement is a large room which was thought some time ago would be leased for a pool room. The owners are well satisfied with their investment, believing that the renewed activity which is due this winter will that every available inch of office and store space in demand.

Superstructure of Ware Building Fast Taking Form.

The walls of the Ware building on Third Street have shot up this last week at such a rate that the extent and capacity of the building is just being appreciated. When completed it will be one of the largest buildings in the city, being a little more than 100 feet deep. It will contain 151,000 brick, two walls of which will be of the pressed brick separated by a band of beaded black mortar.

The excavation and shoring work has consumed more than the usual length of time, as it is built different than the usual way and without doubt the underpinning is the heaviest in the city. The building is one foot less in width than the width of the lot, which will permit of light and ventilation on the side that will be built in, while the north side is on an alley.

Ratopayers Show Fire Hall By-Law.

The by-law which was drafted to cover the expense of additional equipment and expenditures on the central fire-hall in Redcliff to replace the original by-law, and which was put to a vote of the people last Monday was defeated. The poll was 19 ballots for and 18 against, and as a two-third vote is required the by-law was brushed aside. There did not seem to be much organized effort to put the law through but it is probable that it will be put up to the people again.

BIG SALE IS SHIPLEY PARK

Mr. Waddell, who is managing the affairs of the Shipley Investment Co. during Mr. Shipley's absence, commenced deals this week whereby all of the property belonging to the company in Shipley Park, amounting to over 30 lots, were turned over. The cash purchase price was nearly $11,000.

To My Friends

The intense that many friends have taken in my recent fight for the possession of the little boy who was so abused in his former surroundings and who was the subject of court proceedings has awakened in me a deep appreciation of these acts, whether done by old friends or friends of the moment's need, and I desire to express my sincere thanks to these people.
